

Luke Kooper

Luke Kooper (b. 1990) is a sculptor based in New York City. He studied Art and Architecture at Brown University (B.A. 2014). His work explores the realm between the visual and the structural by pushing the boundaries of material perception and playing with scale. Luke's wooden sculptures are an homage to the life of a tree and all its beauty—they aim to renew our appreciation for this organic material as natural resource.

Untitled, 2022
Birch, alder, maple
90" x 18" x 13"
$26,000

Photo of Detail
Untitled, 2022
Birch, alder, maple
90" x 18" x 13"

Photo of Detail
Untitled, 2022
Birch, alder, maple
90" x 18" x 13"

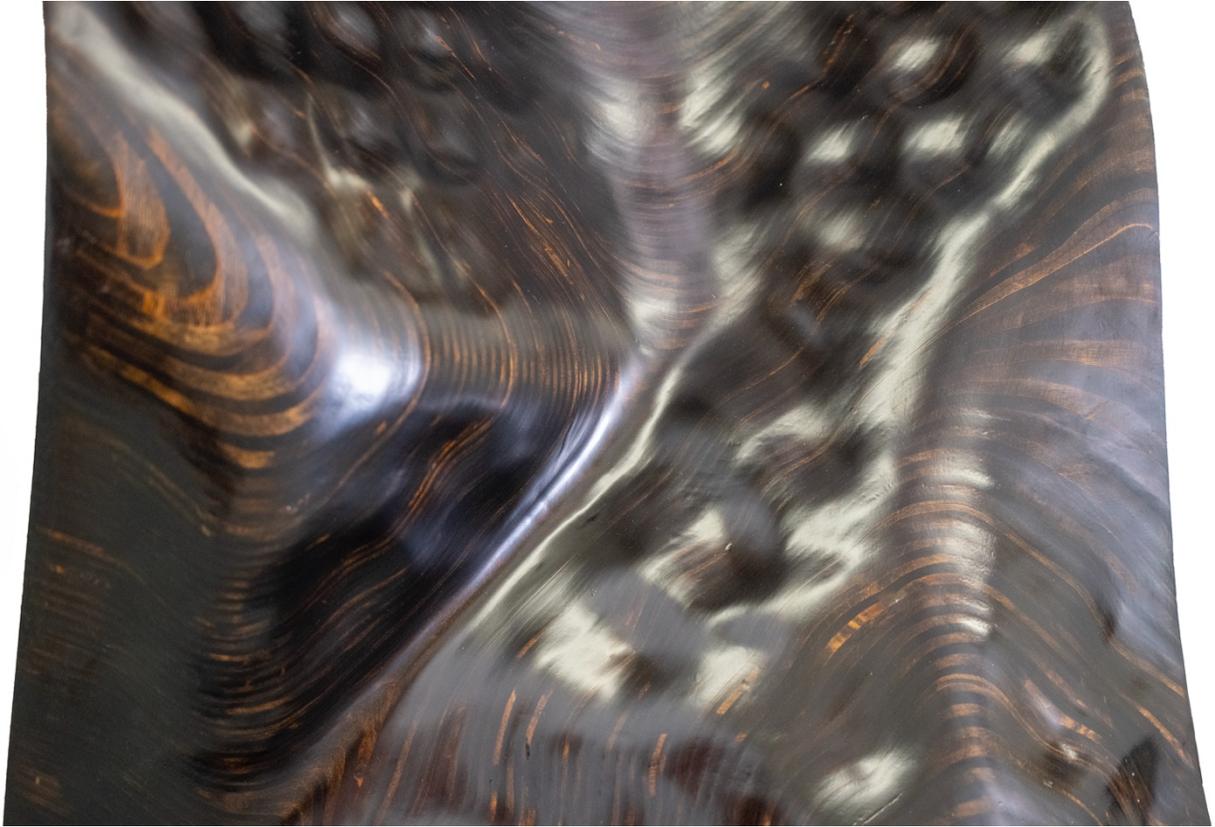

Photo of Detail
Untitled, 2022
Birch, alder, maple
90" x 18" x 13"