

DAIS

DOMESTIC ABUSE INTERVENTION SERVICES

How you can help.

DAIS sees domestic violence as a community problem which requires a community solution. The people who make contributions and get involved with the support of our organization are a part of that community solution. As support from public funding sources has diminished, our reliance on private donations becomes more important every year. That's why your support is so essential to us. With your help, we are able to offer a wide array of crisis intervention and community education/prevention programs, including a 24-hour Help Line, programming for children from violent homes, legal advocacy, support groups, and emergency safety planning. DAIS is also the only domestic violence shelter in all of Dane County.

AND FOR ALL.
