designs
that connect.

Hello,

I'M A WEB DESIGNER & DEVELOPER

I'm Bhumika Chauhan, a web designer with 4+ years of experience creating clean, user-focused digital experiences. I design modern, responsive websites and interfaces that improve usability, clarity, and conversions for businesses and startups worldwide.

DESIGNING WITH PURPOSE, NOT JUST PIXELS.

My vision is to design digital experiences that are simple, intuitive, and purposeful. I believe great design goes beyond visuals—it should solve real problems, guide users naturally, and create clarity at every interaction.

By combining thoughtful UX strategy with clean, modern UI design, I aim to create accessible and scalable solutions. I strive to work with global teams and forward-thinking businesses to build user-centered products that deliver long-term value and meaningful impact.

Built from scratch. designed with purpose.

I started my web design journey in high school, building my first website for a local yoga center using HTML and CSS. That project turned into local freelancing work and later connected me with international clients through referrals. I've independently managed complete website projects—from concept and design to development and launch—handling both creative and technical execution.

In 2024, after college, I entered traditional job roles but realized freelancing was my space. Today, I work full-time as a self-made web and UI/UX designer, driven by passion, ownership, and creative freedom.

Who Is This Program For?

The Sunyata Program is perfect for you if:

- Are you feeling mentally exhausted or emotionally overwhelmed?
- Do you struggle to slow down, sleep deeply, or feel truly present?
- Are you losing touch with your inner calm or creative energy?
- Are you craving clarity, balance and a full-body reset?

If you feel a calling toward silence, healing, and renewal — Sunyata is for you.

What Makes Sunyata Different?

The Sunyata Program is perfect for you if:

- A carefully designed structure rooted in ancient healing philosophies
- Safe, guided silence — even beginners can join
- A supportive, peaceful environment
- Modern therapeutic methods blended with spiritual practices
- No forced practices — everything is gentle and voluntary
- Small group size for deeper attention

Sunyata is designed for real transformation — not just a temporary escape.
