By signing this document, you grant The Australian Ceramics Association as the Publisher a non-exclusive, royalty-free, perpetual licence to publish and distribute your article in the Journal and electronic format. This means that The Australian Ceramics Association may publish your article in various formats or media, make translations, licence it to third parties such as database aggregators, and collect any fees earned by such use.

In submitting the Article you warrant to the Publisher that to the best of your knowledge having made all reasonable enquiries and exercised all reasonable care:

- you are the copyright owner of the article;
- the article is your own original work;
- the article has not been previously published elsewhere (including online) unless otherwise agreed with the Editor;
- the article is not defamatory and does not infringe the intellectual property or moral rights of any third party; and
- any clinical or practical advice contained in the article has been thoroughly tested, all appropriate safeguards are identified, and any appropriate disclaimers or warnings have been included.

You indemnify the Publisher against all costs, claims, liabilities, expenses, losses, injuries or damages incurred or sustained by the Publishing owing to a breach of these warranties.

The Publisher acknowledges that you will retain the copyright and moral rights in your article. Copyright in the final published version of the article and any related metadata is owned by the Publisher. As such, you may:

- use a pre-print or pre-published version of the Article (but not the final published version) for personal use, including distribution and communication on a personal website and depositing in institutional repositories.
- re-publish your article elsewhere with full bibliographical citation of the original publication in The Journal of Australian Ceramics.
