BEYOND THE WALL

THE UNTOLD STORY OF HUMPTY DUMPTY

Activity Book

What are you Curious About?

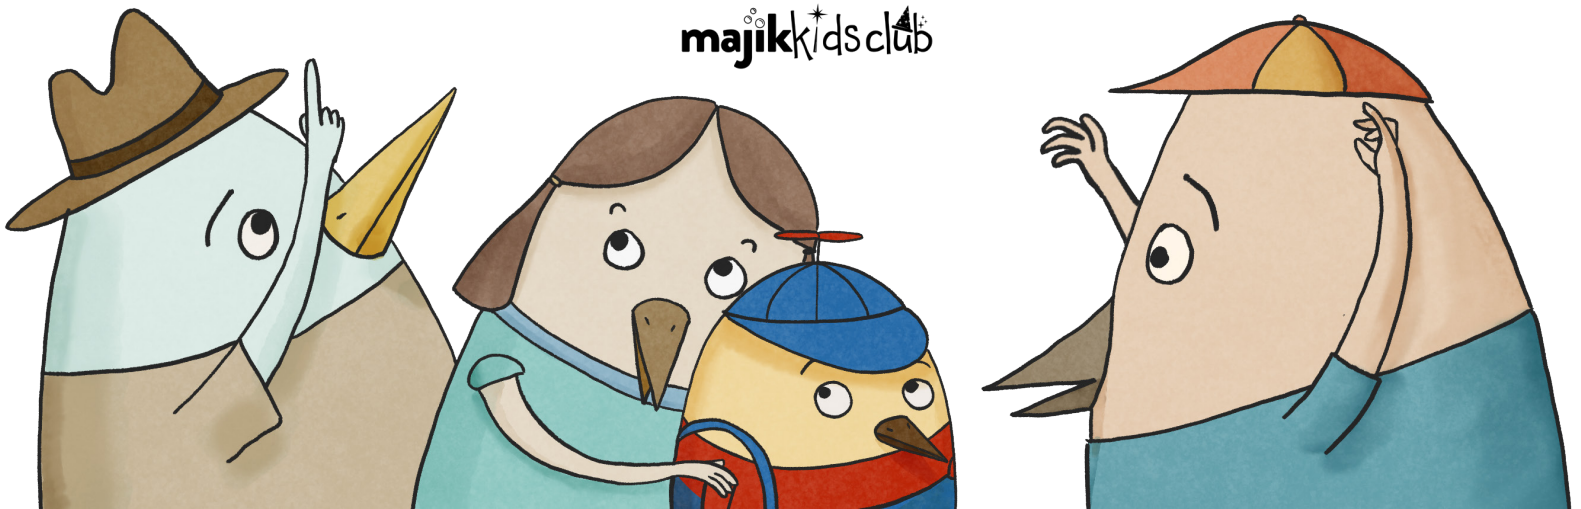
Either share your answers to the questions with your family, friends or classmates OR write your answers on the lines below.

Humpty Dumpty was a curious egg and curiosity is something most eggs just do not do.
But Humpty proved to the rest of Egglandia that curiosity is what set them all free.
Being curious and questioning things is what kids do best —
So, as the kid you are, we ask you:

What are you curious about?

What would you love to know or learn about?

What questions do you have?



Freedom From Fear

Either share your answers to the questions with your family, friends or classmates OR write your answers on the lines below.

The eggs of Egglandia were afraid of the wall and the unknown of what may be beyond it. At the end of the story, it became clear that their fear was what stopped them from being free. Sometimes in life, we let our fears stop us from learning, growing, exploring or being full ourself. Those fears become like walls we build around us that eventually stop us from being free.

Is there anything you're afraid of or scared to try?
Write your answers below or share them with a friend, parent or classmate.

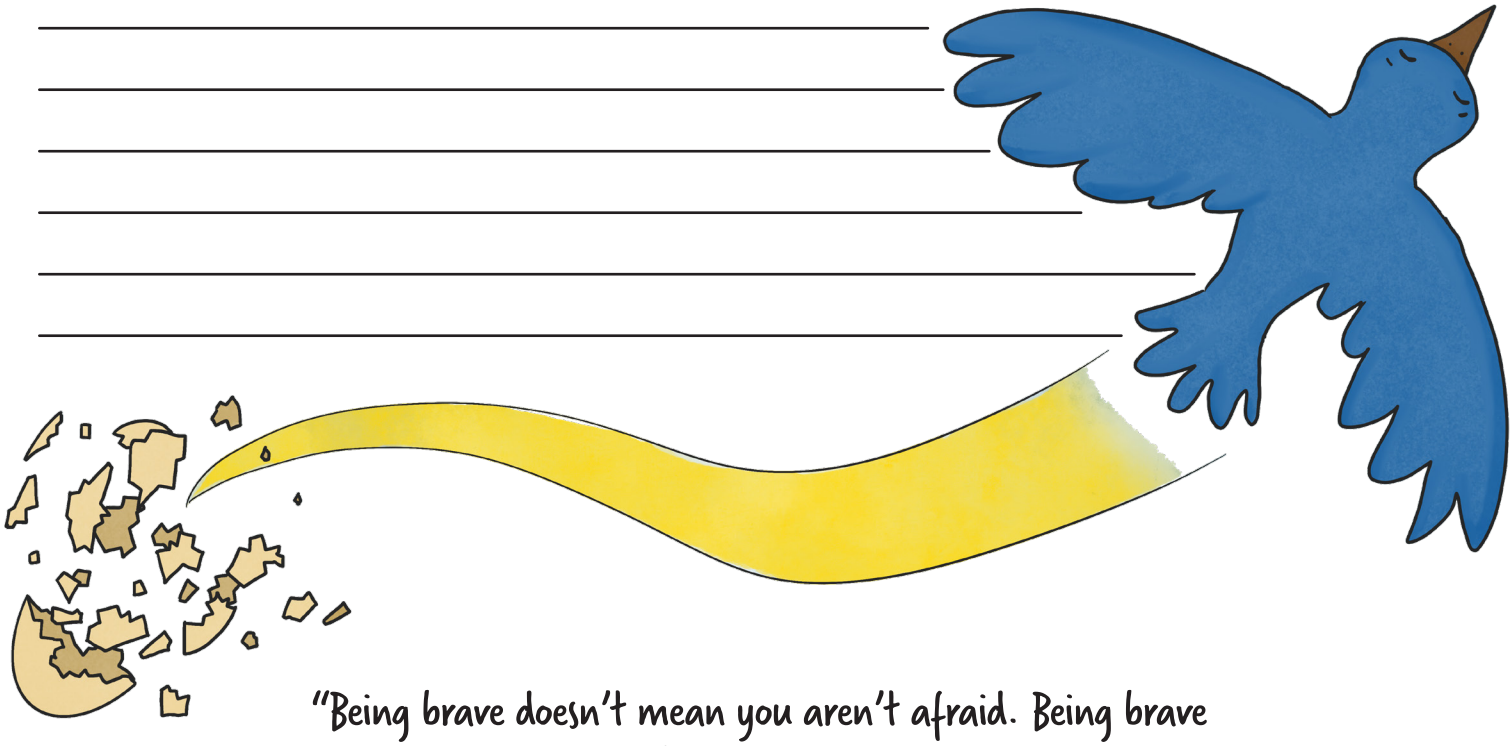
Feeling Freedom

Either share your answers to the questions with your family, friends or classmates OR write your answers on the lines below.

Sometimes overcoming our fears or walls is as easy as changing how we think about them. Sometimes overcoming our fears or walls means being brave and trying something new.

When it comes to your fears, is there anything you could do to find freedom?



"Being brave doesn't mean you aren't afraid. Being brave means you are afraid, but you do the right thing anyway.
- Neil Gaiman

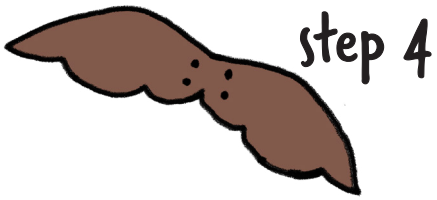
Making Your Wings

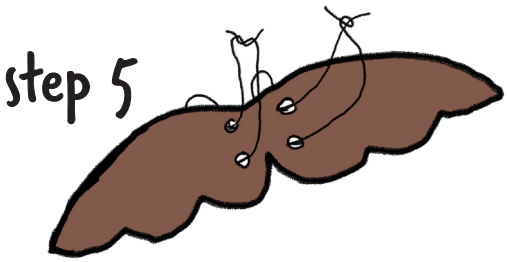
Show off your wings! We would love to see what your wings look like, so once you're done, take a picture and share it in the Majik Kids Club (if you feel comfortable)!

How much did you want to fly over the wall with Humpty Dumpty and all the other eggs of Egglandia at the end of the story? Well now is your chance!

Instructions:

1. Find a cardboard box
2. Lay out the box flat and draw an outline of wings on the cardboard. Once you are happy with your wings, have an adult help you cut them out.
3. Decorate the wings however you would like with paint, markers, stickers, or things from a garden like leaves, grasses, and feathers! Make sure you cover both sides.
4. Once you are happy with your wings and they have dried, pierce the wings with four holes near the centre of the wings.
5. Cut 2 lengths of string or elastic (depending on what you have), each long ehough to wrap under your arms and over your shoulders. Then, string the elastics through the holes to create armbands for the wings.
6. Your wings are ready to fly, enjoy!





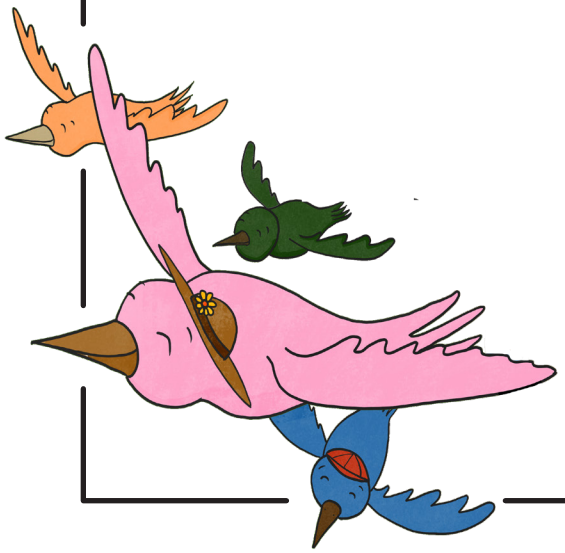
Stuff you may Need

1. The help of an adult
2. Recycled cardboard
3. Scissors
4. Acrylic paint
5. Thin elastic or ribbon
6. Decorations (e.g. craft feathers, plastic gems, tissue paper, sequins, leaves, etc...)
7. PVA Glue

Drawing Freedom

Show off your wings! We would love to see your drawings! Share it in the Majik Kids Club (if you feel comfortable)!

Remember how happy Humpty felt when he broke through his shell & flew over the wall? Draw a picture of YOU as one of those birds breaking through their fear and flying to freedom. What do your wings look like? What kind of freedom bird are you? We would love to see what you draw. Share your picture in the Majik Kids Club!



Get Humpty up the Wall

Help Humpty make his way through the snakes and thorns so he can climb his way to freedom.

Shouting from the Wall-Top

We would love to know what your message was. Feel free to share inside the Majik Kids Club if you feel inspired!

Wasn't it brave of Humpty Dumpty to call down from the wall-top to all of the eggs of Egglandia? His message was pure and beautiful. He wanted everyone to know that the world wasn't a scary place and that on the other side of the wall — and their shells — was freedom.

Let's imagine it was YOU on top of the wall. What message would you want to shout down to the world? What do you think the world needs to hear right now?

1. This exercise needs an audience. So gather your family, a friend, your classmates, a pet, a tree, OR line up your stuffed animals in front of you.
2. Then find a spot to sit above your audience so it feels like you're on top of the wall (maybe on your couch, a chair, the top of your stairs, etc.).
3. Share your message with the world — or those in your audience down below.
