

Community Guidelines

Welcome to the 1Life Insurance community! To ensure a positive and respectful environment for everyone, please follow these guidelines:

Respectful Communication:

- Treat everyone with respect and kindness.
- Harassment, hate speech, and bullying are strictly prohibited.
- Disagreements are natural, but please keep discussions civil and constructive.

Publishing Content:

- Share content that is relevant to the community's interests and purpose.
- Irrelevant or unrelated posts may be removed to keep the group focused and valuable for all members.
- Avoid spreading misinformation or unverified claims.

No Spam:

- Avoid posting spam or irrelevant links.
- This includes self-promotion, advertisements, and repetitive posts that do not contribute to the community.

Privacy:

- Respect the privacy of others.
- Do not share personal information without explicit consent. This includes photos, addresses, and contact details.

Copyright and Intellectual Property:

- Only share content that you have the right to share.
- Respect copyright laws and give credit where it is due.
- Do not post pirated or illegal content.

No Illegal Activities:

- Do not engage in or promote illegal activities.

- This includes sharing content that is illegal or encouraging others to break the law.

No Trolling or Bullying:

- Trolling, bullying, and any form of harassment are strictly prohibited. We aim to create a supportive and friendly environment where everyone feels safe.

No Sexual or Explicit Content:

- Do not post or share sexual, nude, or explicit content.
- This includes images, videos, and written material that are inappropriate or offensive.

Report Issues:

- If you see something that violates these guidelines, report it to the admins.
- We will review and take appropriate action to address the issue.

Constructive Feedback:

- Provide constructive feedback and avoid negative or destructive criticism. We aim to foster a supportive environment where members can grow and learn from each other.

Language:

- Always use appropriate language.
- Avoid profanity and offensive language to maintain a welcoming atmosphere for all members.

No Discrimination:

- Discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or any other personal characteristic is not tolerated.
- We celebrate diversity and aim to create an inclusive environment for all members.

Event and Activity Participation:

- Respect the rules and guidelines specific to each event or activity.

By following these guidelines, we can create a positive, engaging, and respectful space for everyone. Thank you for being a part of our community!
